The Supreme Court recently rendered an opinion on a matter which affects every county in the State, and which is of unusual interest, as it involves large sums of money. The question decided is, whether an agreement for the sale of real estate is taxable. The case came up on appeal from contents may be used in any way detire district court of Shawnes County, which decided affirmatively. The Supreme Court reverses the decision of the district court and holds that where an agreement is executed to sell real estate upon condi-tions procedent, and no notes given for the purchase money, and it is stipulated that time is the essence of the agreement and that neither the legal nor the equitable title to the land is transferred thereby, the Reynolds, editor of the Atchison Times, was found guitty of using the mails for the purpose of defrauding, and asked for immediate sentence. He was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $200. The case grew out of the fact that Reynolds, as president of the Atchinon Live-Stock Insurance Company, had sent circu lars through the mails which purported to be signed by the cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Atchison, representing that the insurance company had on deposit $50,608.16, and as a result succeeded in securing about $30,000, $15,000 of which he cashed.

Crawford, a prominent attorney of Kinsley, was conversing with his family in his house, a shot was fired through the window from the opposite side of the street. The ball en-tered the body below the shoulder and came out several inches beyond and was found on the floor of the room. Detectives were hard at work, but no clew or explana-tion for the attack had been found. Craw-

> A horse could be handled in the same way, and it would pay to try to cure a valuable mare. A padded bed should be prepared, and on this the horse should be made to rest with the head and neck and legs strapped to the floor by staples placed at convenient points. Every morning and night the head could be loosened and the animal helped to eat and drink. After being strapped down a few days any horse would give up struggling, provided it was so fastened as to be perfectly helpless, and it could be turned over with no trouble, and so kept in a better condition. The broken leg should be suspended in a sling from overhead, and in this way it would not be injured. I like this plan better than to suspend the whole animal in a sling, as this is a most troublesome undertaking and LA often fails, the animal being liable to get loose, or down, and is then worse off than before. - F. ## False Teeth For Horses.

The manufacture of false teetn for co horses bids fair to become a regular OA industry. A New York veterinary surgeon recently said on the subject: Po. within the past year, and they enn do any thing now in horses' teeth that they can do in human. I heard of a case a few tays ago where this new invention was tried with perfect success. The horse's teeth were pulled one by one, and in the cavity left open a new tooth was inserted. It was literally cemented in, and, although the gums were sore for a week, they finally hardened and now give the animal no trouble. Filling horses' teeth and cleaning them is a common thing now and in a few years that practice will be all the rage."- V. Y. Star.

THE LATEST IN COFFINS.

The coffin did not seem to be different from the ordinary kind of casket. It was plain in style and finished in rosewood, beautifully marked. The handles were of solid silver, and the inside was handsomely covered with cushioned trimming of white silk, neatly quilted. It was evidently a coffin that any modest man of simple tastes could offer no objection to being buried

"What do you think of it?" "It is a very neat sort of a coffin, but I don't see any thing remarkable about it." "Lift one end of it."

The reporter arched his back, grasped the handles firmly and put his strength into a great lift. The casket rose as though it were made of painted air, so light was it, and the experimentor narrowly escaped falling on his back.

"It feels as though it were made of paper. How do you make them so light?"

"It is made of paper," answered the manufacturer;" compressed paper. It is cheaper than wood, can be pressed into shape, is more durable and can be made much more quickly and easily. The veneering is of another piece of paper, very thin, which is painted to resemble wood, by machinery. When the coffin is put together it is varnished and trimmed and then it is ready for occupancy."

"How did you happen to invent it?" "I didn't invent it, but almost any one ought to have done so. Paper has been used for car wheels for years past. Doors are now made of the same substance. Two thick paper boards, stamped and molded into panels and glazed together with glue and potash, and then rolled through heavy rollers, are coming into use. They are better than wood, in that they will not shrink, swell, crack or warp. They are made water-proof with a mixture. "Boats are also made of paper," continued the manufacturer; "and for certain kinds of racing they are better even than the ordinary kind of wood, and far cheaper."

"You will soon make your whole coffin out of paper?" suggested the re-

"We are not far away from that now," replied the maker. "They are making window glass from linen or cotton, modified by chemical action. When the glass is made it is dipped in a preparation of camphor and alcohol, which gives it the character of parchment. It can then be molded and cut into transparent sheets that are remarkably tough and can stand double the strain of the ordinary glass. Yes, sir, it will not be long before not only coffins for the dead, but the houses for the living can be made from the foundation to the roof entirely out of paper. The more complicated your disease, the greater the number and diversity of symptoms. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. The treatment of many thousands of cases f those chronic weaknesses and distressing

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalida Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Br. Piorce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderfuremedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar silments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," dobilitated tenchers, milliners, dressmalters, scamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest cartily boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic. "As a soothing and strengthening nervous eximplifity, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic deep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

monly attendant upon functional and orswife disease of the womb. It induces refreshing-sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning slokness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription? is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate eases of loucorries, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak beck, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Lite."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small haxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder-diseases.
